

Welcome to The Wave!

The SEA's new monthly newsletter where we share our passions, projects, and pressing environmental issues with YOU!

General Announcements:

- Next meeting: Thursday, November 5th at 7pm on Zoom (check CampusGroups for a link)!
- Please also reach out to Doug or Samina if you'd like to get involved with 'the Wave,' we'd love to have some more hands helping out and any suggestions you have!

This semester SEA has no intention of letting distance stop our advocacy, and will be focusing on the environmental issues that we experience in our own areas.

Some events we plan to host include a trash pickup from home, an environmental documentary Netflix party, and an activism and letter-writing from home workshop!

What is SEA?

We the Student Environmental Alliance (SEA) are the student driven environmental advocacy organization on campus. We are committed to promoting environmentally sustainable programs and educating the student body about current environmental issues. We also work outside the campus, collaborating with the community, spreading awareness, and advocating for a more environmentally and socially just world.

Regenerative Teamwork Model

The members of SEA inspire and enable each other to work toward a meaningful and rewarding shared purpose. Our club operations depend on each member of the Activism, Sustainable living, and newsletter committees and the power of their individual contribution.

In recognizing the current social climate, we're now taking an environmental intersectionalist approach. We hope to include opportunities for activism and resources regarding social justice and equity of race, sexuality, gender, religion, and more. Environmentalism does not need to be a one-issue effort, so we are making a collective, inclusive effort to care for the people and the planet.
