COVID Update – 12/16/21

To the Washington College Community,

We are writing to inform you about four presumptive positive cases within our community. They are presumed positive as a result of positive antigen test results, and while we await the confirmatory PCR test. The status may change once we receive the results from the send-out tests.

There is currently one student in Isolation housing. The other three individuals are following isolation guidelines off-campus.

Contact notification for all individuals is ongoing. As a reminder, those who are identified as close contacts of these individuals will be contacted by Health Services.
